Rules and Regulations 2020 Nature Coast Eggfest

1. Competition Cooks will be provided a Large Egg and Plate Setter to cook on the day of the fest and charcoal will be provided. No more than 2 cooks allowed per egg/team. Teams will be required to produce 2 items, one ready to serve at 11am and the second by 1pm. Awards will follow at 3pm.

All cooks must supply their own food for the entire event. Cooks must include their menus with their registration form. Teams will be required to submit food at 11am and 1pm. Cooks must provide enough 2oz samples of each item for a minimum of 600 Tasters. Each Taster in attendance will be allowed to vote 1 time for each item for the team they feel has the best overall food. Prizes will be given away to 1st, 2nd, and 3rd places.

If you've never cooked at an Eggfest before you'll want to bring anything you need to prepare your food (mixing bowls, measuring spoons, ingredients for your cook, folding chairs etc), anything you'll need to cook your food (tongs, spatula, rib racks, dutch oven, etc), we will supply everything you will need to serve your food (paper plates, utensils, napkins, etc). Please be aware of handling food safely and keeping your work areas clean. If your ingredients need to be kept cold, you'll need to bring a cooler. We won't have any refrigerators! If you have specific needs we will try to accommodate you as well as we can. Cooks are encouraged to bring a tent and table cloth. One table will be provided per team. Teams may decorate their table any way they want.

The cost to cook in this year's Eggfest as a competitor or a bragger is $50. The registration fee will be returned to all registrants that participate. (Contact Jeremy Bush at jeremy@mybhs.email or 352-621-7700 to submit team names and cooks names and ask any questions you may have).

All Eggs will be available to start cooking on, at 8am the day of the fest. All cooks are required to check in no later than 9:00am. Food may be prepared off-site but must be finished on the provided Eggs the day of the fest. We encourage cooks to do all or most of your preparation and cooking at the fest. Please contact us if you have any questions about this.
